

Hamptons Youth Athletic League

Parent information:

Children will not practice unless this is received by the the coach after the first practice.

HYAL is a teaching league where we value sportsmanship,hard work,and reward effort and improvement. The emphasis is on doing ones best to succeed. The coaches volunteer their time to develop the players skill, fitness, character,and love for the game. In order to help make the program enjoyable and safe or all please keep the following in mind.

*Do not drop your child off at a game or practice early when your child's coach is not there to supervise.

*Please be considerate of the coaches and pick up your child on time.

*If your child will not attend a practice/game please contact the coach so he/she can plan accordingly.

*HYAL requires players play equal time. The exception is if your child has not been attending practices regularly or is presenting a problem during practices.

* Coaches are generously donating many hours to coach your child. Please respect his/her coaching by letting them coach. Screaming directions to your child only confuses them when they are trying to listen to their coaches. Parents are not permitted to sit with the team unless they are doing the book.

* Please encourage your child to respect the other team and the game of basketball by learning and playing by the rules.

*Please help supervise the schools by keeping your children off the courts unless they are practicing with their team and out of the hallways unless supervised while going to the restroom.

*Kids are not permitted to play basketball in a gym unless they are playing an official game involved in a practice with their coach .

Children are not permitted to roam the halls of any venue or
